Bad idea; during taxi, take off, and landing is when passengers need to be the most alert. Cell phone use would distract people (leaving them in their own little world), endangering thier safety - if / when an accident or issues could / will arise in the future.